How Adams Can Salvage the Botched Rollout of a New Medicare Advantage Plan for Retirees

In “How Adams Can Salvage the Botched Rollout of a New Medicare Advantage Plan for Retirees” (Crain’s New York Business, February 7, 2022), partner Steve Cohen discusses an eleventh-hour sneak attack by the de Blasio administration to dramatically affect the medical care retirees receive.

To see the full article, click on the link below (subscription may be required).

How Adams Can Salvage the Botched Rollout of a New Medicare Advantage Plan for Retirees | Crain's New York Business