

Judge Sides With City Retirees, Temporarily Blocking Medicare Advantage Switch

In “Judge Sides With City Retirees, Temporarily Blocking Medicare Advantage Switch” (The City, July 7, 2023) it was reported that that New York Supreme Court Justice Lyle Frank issued a preliminary injunction preventing the city from forcing 250,000 public sector retirees into a private for-profit Medicare Advantage plan. The decision is the fifth victory in the courts for the retirees.

Partner Steve Cohen represents the NYC Organization of Retirees in this matter.
