

Judge Temporarily Blocks Mayor Adams from Switching NYC Retirees to Medicare Advantage: Protecting the Health Coverage of City Workers

In “Judge Temporarily Blocks Mayor Adams from Switching NYC Retirees to Medicare Advantage: Protecting the Health Coverage of City Workers” (New York Daily News, July 7, 2023), it was reported that New York Supreme Court Judge Lyle Frank granted a temporary restraining order, preventing Mayor Adams from switching approximately 250,000 retired city workers and their dependents to a cost-cutting Medicare Advantage Plan. This decision is the fifth victory in the courts for the retirees safeguarding their current coverage.

Partner Steve Cohen represents the NYC Organization of Retirees in this matter.
