

NYC Can't Force Retirees To Switch Benefits, Judge Rules

In “NYC Can't Force Retirees To Switch Benefits, Judge Rules” (Law 360, July 7, 2023), it was reported that New York Supreme Court Justice Lyle E. Frank issued a preliminary injunction preventing the city from requiring over 250,000 retirees to switch from traditional Medicare and supplemental insurance to a privatized Medicare Advantage plan. This decision is the fifth victory in the courts for the retirees.

Partner Steve Cohen represents the NYC Organization of Retirees in this matter.
