

Judge Gives Initial Nod To $1.4M Webster Bank Privacy Deal

In "Judge Gives Initial Nod To $1.4M Webster Bank Privacy Deal" (Law360, January 3, 2024), Law360 discusses the initial approval granted by a New Jersey federal judge to a $1.4 million settlement between Webster Bank and a class of account holders. The class of account holders sought to hold the bank and its fraud detection services provider liable for a ransomware attack that revealed customers' personal and private information on the dark web.

To read the article, click on the link below (subscription may be required).

Judge Gives Initial Nod To \$1.4M Webster Bank Privacy Deal | Law360