

Kaiser Must Face Whistleblower's Software Tampering Fraud Claim

In "Kaiser Must Face Whistleblower's Software Tampering Fraud Claim" (Bloomberg Law, February 14, 2024), Bloomberg Law discusses a federal Judge's decision, allowing a whistleblower, Jeffrey Mazik, to advance a False Claims Act suit alleging that Kaiser Permanente tampered with fraud detection software in order to overcharge Medicare for health-care services.

Some of Mazik's claims were dismissed, as they were similar to a 2014 suit. However, the U.S. District Court Judge ruled that those having to do with software tampering would be allowed to proceed.

To read the article, please click on the link below (a subscription may be required).

Kaiser Must Face Whistleblower's Software Tampering Fraud Claim | Bloomberg Law