

MSNBC: Incredibly Important Witness: Longtime Trump Org Controller Takes Stand In Hush Money Trial

In “Incredibly Important Witness: Longtime Trump Org Controller Takes Stand In Hush Money Trial” (MSNBC, May 6, 2024), Pollock Cohen Managing Partner Adam Pollock joins Ana Cabrera and former U.S. attorney Carol Lam to discuss the importance of Jeffrey McConney’s testimony in former President Trump’s hush money trial.

In the interview, Adam Pollock explains why McConney’s testimony is significant. He says, “When [McConney] indicated in the ledger that these were payments for legal services, somebody must have told them write down it’s for legal services and that’s a key answer to get out. This is a witness who’s a bookkeeper, who’s an accountant, who’s doing his job ... he’ll have a level of credibility that the other witnesses won’t have.”

To view the full segment, click on the link below.

'Incredibly Important Witness': Longtime Trump Org Controller Takes Stand In Hush Money Trial | MSNBC