

Ana Cabrera Reports: DOJ Opens Investigation into NY AG's Office Over Fraud Case Against Trump

"Unbelievably unusual and unprecedented."

That's how Pollock Cohen managing partner Adam Pollock described the Department of Justice opening a federal grand jury investigation into New York Attorney General Letitia James' office over their fraud case against President Trump during his appearance today on Ana Cabrera Reports.

In "DOJ Opens Investigation into NY AG's Office Over Fraud Case Against Trump" (MSNBC, Ana Cabrera Reports, August 8, 2025), Adam joined Ana Cabrera and David Rohde, NBC News Senior Executive Editor of National Security and Law, to discuss the DOJ's decision to have the investigation handled by the acting U.S. attorney in Albany rather than the Southern District of New York, and what a "denial of rights" does—and does not—mean in this context.

To view the full segment, click on the link below.

DOJ Opens Investigation into NY AG's Office Over Fraud Case Against Trump | MSNBC Ana Cabrera Reports