
Steve Cohen Named to 2023 City & State's Law Power 100

Pollock Cohen LLP congratulates partner Steve Cohen and former partner Sara Haviva Mark, for being named to the 2023 City & State's Law Power 100.

Steve and Sara were recognized for their work representing 163,000 retired city workers who were overcharged in health insurance co-payments and in connection with the class-action lawsuit filed on their behalf against New York City and its health insurance provider.

Both Steve and Sara are known for their advocacy on issues related to health care equity.

The Law Power 100 recognizes the most influential legal professions in the world of New York politics and government.

Joining Steve and Sara on the list are high-profile elected officials, powerful prosecutors, high-ranking appointees, partners at prominent law firms, defense attorneys, public defenders and legal scholars. Among those named to the list are New York State Attorney General Letitia James, U.S. Attorney Damian Williams, and District Attorney Alvin Bragg.

The 2023 Law Power 100: The legal eagles in the world of New York politics | City & State New York