

Steve Cohen: A Lifetime of Stories

In “Steve Cohen: A Lifetime of Stories” (Two Lawyers Walk Into a Bar Podcast, November 21, 2019) Steve Cohen talks to about getting kicked out of the Naval Academy, his years in politics, writing ads for Ronald Reagan, serving on four juries, and visiting the Playboy Mansion. He also explains how he ended up in law school at the age of 58 and what it was like being “the old guy” in his law school class. Steve also chats about how his legal career began and the important work being done at Pollock Cohen LLP.

To see the full article, click on the link below.

Steve Cohen: A Lifetime of Stories | Two Lawyers Walk Into a Bar Podcast