

Hard Times in America Renew the Call for Mandatory National Service

In “Hard Times in America Renew the Call for Mandatory National Service” (The Hill, April 22, 2020), Steve Cohen discusses how national service, while not a means to prevent a pandemic, hurricane, or foreign threat or a remedy for political distrust, may be a step in the right direction to address problems.

To see the full article, click on the link below (subscription may be required).

Hard Times in America Renew the Call for Mandatory National Service " The Hill