

Don't Sink The Navy's Future

In "Don't Sink The Navy's Future" (The Hill, July 29, 2020), Steve Cohen discusses how the only way for the Navy to overcome its problems is by attracting, preparing, and keeping the best people and to do so includes training enlisted personnel in the science and technologies behind the machines they are tasked to maintain.

To see the full article, click on the link below (subscription may be required).

Don't Sink The Navy's Future | The Hill