

Attorney Steve Cohen Proves You're Never Too Old to Learn Something New

In “Attorney Steve Cohen Proves You're Never Too Old to Learn Something New” (LexisNexis, August 5, 2021), Steve Cohen, a successful author, publisher, and business executive, discusses the new phase of life he started when at age 58 he entered New York Law School and was, later sworn in as New York's oldest new lawyer. He also discusses the vision he and Adam Pollock, whom he met in a False Claims Act case, had when starting the firm.

To see the full article, click on the link below.

Attorney Steve Cohen Proves You're Never Too Old to Learn Something New | LexisNexis