Mia Generoso

Legal Analyst

(646) 290-8261
mia@pollockcohen.com

Mia Generoso is a Legal Analyst at Pollock Cohen. She graduated Summa Cum Laude from Columbia University in May 2025, earning her B.A. in English and Dance. During her senior year, Mia interned with Columbia University's Title IX Office, where she helped develop university training curricula through her research on protections for pregnant and parenting students. During her time at Columbia, Mia was involved with various extracurricular organizations, including the New Student Orientation Program, FLI Network (First-Generation and/or Low-Income), CoLab Performing Arts Collective, and Columbia Ballet Collaborative. Off-campus, she taught Adult Beginner Ballet at Bridge for Dance and wrote articles for an online magazine, Teen World of Arts. In her spare time, Mia dances professionally with Moving Visions Dance and enjoys reading, crafting, and seeing live performances in the city.

Education

- Columbia University, B.A., English, Dance, summa cum laude, 2025